

Glendale 4 All

We educate to liberate

05 February 2016

From the desk of Mr A. Chotia (principal)

It is with great excitement and pleasure that I welcome the reworked school newsletter. The editorial team, Siyabulela Zweni, Adam Ontong, Grant Smith and Yusra Fakier recently sacrificed their weekend to attend a publishing workshop which equipped them with editorial and design skills to rework our current newsletter and print material. They will also work towards contributing to local publishing projects. We wish them well with these new and exciting projects.

Where learners have their say!

Are we being pressurised to out-perform other schools?

It is import that learners have a platform to express their opinion. I would like to express my opinion on the constant pressure put on learners to out-perform other schools. As learners we always do our best, but most of the time we feel like it is never good enough. The pressure to perform seems almost as if it more to out-perform the other high schools in the area. It feels like we being pressurised to perform so I school can receive the top school awards.

Why are school so pathetic about us expressing our individuality?

I understand and am very happy to wear school uniform (as boring as it is!), but why must the school management even dictate to us about the wearing of a bit of jewellery and the occasional wearing of a casual jacket, etc. As teenagers, I feel that we need the opportunity to express our individuality, especially amongst our peers – and by allowing, us to at least wear some make-up, our hairstyles and some jewellery will not do any harm to wearing the school uniform, but will allow us a bit of freedom to express our individuality!

Valentine's Day Concert

Gledale High School will be hosting a

VALENTINES DAY CONCERT

which will be taking place during school hours on the 12 February 2016.

Entry fee: R25

Dress code: Red and White

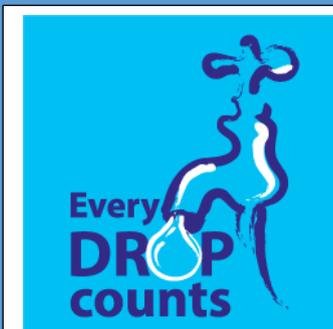

If your name was a song
I would sing it all day,
never will I run out of words to say,
forever will your name by my lips be spoken,
never will your heart by me be broken

In our March issue we will discuss:

- Fashion tips
- Matric Ball planning
- Career guidance
- School issues about disciplines
- The impact of drugs on the youth

Please send your contributions to the editorial team.

Remember it is the responsibility of each of us to save water.

This newsletter is published monthly by:

Publishers:
Siyabulela Zweni
Adam Ontong

Designer:
Grant Smith

Editor:
Yusra Fakier

The editorial team invites you to contribute to this newsletter